One of my greatest strengths is my determination and dedication to my job. When I have things to do as in my job I set goals for myself and it helps me stay motivated to get things done in a timely manner. I also feel that my communication skills are excellent I am very friendly and a good listener which helps me understand problems more better to give a good response. I consider to be a part of a team in android development. I'm looking for a remote job.

Willing to relocate: Anywhere
